About Sheila

Sheila is a licensed and ordained minister and founder of Sheila Arrington Ministries, A 501C3 nonprofit. Sheila's known as an ardent prayer warrior and teacher of the Word; Sheila answered the clarion call to help women move past hardship, teaching them not to let past failures and unmet dreams define them.

Calling on her background as a professional developer, Sheila has crafted strategies with biblical principles and teaching techniques to inspire women to dust themselves off, heal from past wounds, and go for the purpose-driven goal God called each of us to.

Sheila's relatable speaking style captures her audience with thought-provoking and compelling stories; the audience walks away with proven resources and a deepened understanding of purpose. As a result, they're empowered to get up with a newfound ability to move forward.

Sheila is available for retreats, virtual events, podcasts, and in-person engagements.

Testimonials & Endorsements

"Sheila is able to see beyond what's in front of her and give insight into the human condition lifting possibilities and hope for those she encounters. Her genuine love for God provides light. She has a voice that should never be overlooked."
Marquita Stephens

"When I think of Sheila, the first word that comes to mind is joy, and the second is joy filled. I've had the honor and privilege of praying and ministering with Sheila and was touched by her gentleness and inspired by her boldness, two of the many qualities she holds in perfect balance." Di Kistler
